Colorado Springs Pioneers Museum Firearm Collection

At our November 10th meeting, Matt Mayberry, Museum Director, will give us an informative presentation on some of the firearms that are in the Museum's collection. Firearms played a significant role in the settling of the West, including the Pikes Peak Region. The Pioneers Museum contains the history of the Pikes Peak region and admittance is FREE! There are several ongoing exhibits and it is a great place to take the kids!!

Matt Mayberry has served as the director of the Colorado Springs Pioneers Museum since 2002. He holds undergraduate and graduate degrees in history. He has published scholarly and popular articles on a variety of topics, ranging from tuberculosis treatment in the Pikes Peak region to how museums can effectively use eBay to further their missions. In addition to his duties at the CSPM, Matt is involved with numerous boards and commissions and volunteers for the American Alliance of Museums to help similar institutions around the country to evaluate their performance relative to established standards of excellence.
